When Jesus heard that they had thrown him out, he found him and said, "Do you believe in the Son of Man?" He answered and said, "Who is he, sir, that I may believe in him?" Jesus said to him, "You have seen him and the one speaking with you is he." He said, "I do believe, Lord," and he worshiped him — Jn 9:35-38

Cover Story IV

All except two of the large upper church windows on the east and west sides show the first 12 Apostles, excluding Judas. The other two figures are St. Paul (upper east window nearest the sanctuary) and John the Baptist (the next window to Paul's right).

Today's Chimes cover features St. John, Apostle and Evangelist. In the third window on the west side he holds a cup, the cup of sorrow that Jesus assured both he and his brother James the Elder, would share. John, the "disciple that Jesus loved," was a first witness to the empty tomb. The fourth gospel, the three Johannine epistles, and the book of Revelation are attributed to John. He is sometimes depicted as an eagle because of his soaring gospel meditation on love, human and divine.

Changed Lives, the Lenten Gospel readings for last week, today, and next week are powerful narratives from John about lives that were changed because Jesus was encountered. Last week life changed for the Samaritan woman at the well. In today's gospel, the life of the man born blind changes dramatically as he begins to see clearly the identity of Jesus Christ. Next week, Jesus will change Lazarus from death back into life. John offers all of us these stories. Savor and make them a part of your story, your changed life.

In the Lord's Blessings,

Father Tom Presents

Rediscovering Catholicism

Fr. Tom will be doing presentations on our Lenten book, Rediscovering Catholicism by Matthew Kelly, on the following dates:

Wednesday, March 12 at 7:30 pm in the Parish House Dining Room

The purpose of these meetings is to offer us opportunities to gather as a Catholic community to learn more about our faith, to update our understanding, to ask questions, and to experience our pastor as the faith leader of Saint Athanasius in a more informal setting. Please remember copies of the book are available in the front vestibule of the church on Sunday and in the parish house during the week. Pick one up and treat yourself.

Fourth Sunday of Lent

What does the healing of the blind man in John's Gospel have to do with Lenten baptismal preparation and renewal?

Lent is primarily a baptismal preparation and renewal season for all who desire to accept or renew their commitment to Christ. The third, fourth and fifth Sundays of Lent are called Scrutiny Sundays during which all pray over the catechumens, asking that God will give them courage to remain steadfast in their desire to take on the mind and heart of Jesus. In Lectionary year A, the Gospel readings for these Sundays are from John and all have a strong baptismal focus.

The Gospel for the fourth Sunday of Lent is the healing of the blind man from John 9. The narrative relates a tale of coming to faith as one moves from darkness to light, both physically and spiritually through contact with Christ, the light of the world. It speaks directly to the Lenten journey of all catechumens as they continue to clarify their journey in faith. It also challenges the already baptized to recommit themselves to Christ.

John's narrative highlights the reality that Jesus is the one who brings God's light to all. The blind man is asked to wash in the pool of Siloam, a strong baptismal allusion, resulting in his illumination and sight. By identifying with the blind man's passage from darkness to light, catechumens and baptized also affirm their acceptance of and belief in Jesus as the light that illumines life's darkness.

Reflect on how Christ brings illumination in the darkness of your life.

Stained Glass Windows Booklet Available

In 1996, a group was formed to prepare a booklet to commemorate St. Athanasius' 75th anniversary. The booklet was never completed. In 2002, a committee of the St. A's Women's Club members took up the project. The result was a beautiful and informative booklet explaining the meaning and symbolism of our wonderful church windows. With The Chimes using our windows as a theme for its Lenten covers, this booklet affords an opportunity for a deeper study and appreciation of these stained glass jewels. They will be presented for sale for $2 each in the coming weekends after all of the Masses and are also available in the parish office.

Theology on Draft

Outreach Ministry of the Week Ministry of Care

Mission: To provide the comfort of visitation and the Eucharist to members of our community who, because of age or infirmity, are unable to travel to parish liturgies and other events.

Activities: Volunteers receive training offered by the Archdiocese. After training, participants make weekly or bi-weekly social visits to members of the community who are unable to leave their homes, or are confined to local care facilities such as Evanston Hospital, Three Crowns (formerly the Swedish Retirement Home), the Presbyterian Home, and the Alden Home. Participants also offer the Eucharist to those unable to attend Mass due to age, infirmity, or disability.

Because of unmet needs, this ministry is especially interested in acquiring new members.

Lenten Charities 2008

March 2	Sunlight African Community Center

March 16	Kristin Lietz – Missionary Work in Mexico

March 9 - New Foundation of Hope

Our opportunity for Lenten charitable contribution, through next week's second collection, benefits New Foundation of Hope, a youth and community center at 8144 S. Kedzie in Chicago. It raises funds largely through door-to-door collections. It is a tax-exempt 501c (3) organization.

New Foundation exists to provide additional hope, and a firm foundation to support it, for students (largely minority), their parents, and surrounding community. That hope was severely dashed in December when The Center was trashed and robbed of all student and staff computers, commercial copier, TV, microwave, and all chairs. (Peace and Justice Ministry members have contributed computers.)

New Foundation of Hope assists youth - ages seven to 18 - to envision and achieve a successful life for themselves as responsible students and citizens. It provides an alternative to less-than-safe streets. Crime and drugs can be just a heartbeat away.

The Youth Center provides leadership models and a stable environment for literacy instruction, homework assistance, community participation, cultural event exposure, job training, nutrition/hygiene instruction, and safety and personal savings goals - within a space they can call their own. The children include those at two local homeless shelters.

It doesn't work well to focus only on the children. The cooperation of the parents, guardians, and community is necessary. To that end, New Foundation encourages and trains volunteers for work within and beyond The Center through its community Job Assistance Program. The program includes sponsorship of parolees.

The Center also operates as a Warming and Cooling Center for the surrounding community, as well. It also acts as an Emergency Food Distribution Center three mornings a week, in cooperation with the City of Chicago Food Pantry. As an adjunct, it holds family holiday celebrations and distributes food for Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners to further promote family sustainability.

Vision Keepers 2008 Ann Gamber & Mary Ann King for the St. Athanasius Women's Club

St. A's Parish Women's Club has been feeding the hungry one Monday every month for over twelve years. The Club provides food, beverages, and welcome for about 90 people at the lunchtime soup kitchen at Second Baptist Church. The parish is honoring the Women's Club as its 2008 Vision Keeper for its dedication to this mission. The parish salutes two of the group's most faithful Soup Kitchen volunteers, who help to ensure that the Club keeps the vision alive through their monthly service.

Anne has been a soup kitchen volunteer for the past six years. She has had the experience of providing meals for large numbers as the mother of eight, with twenty grandchildren.

Mary Ann has volunteered at the soup kitchen for more than five years. If she knows of a job that needs doing, her response is "Give it to me." She then rolls up her sleeves and gets to it.

Working with the Scriptures

March 2, 2008 (John 9:1-41)

My plant has bugs. At first I didn't notice them. It was just one fruit fly, after all. Kind of like a co-worker in my office. Actually, the reason I bought the plant in the first place was because my office is some distance from my human co-workers and I felt the need for something alive. So, that being said, you can see why that first fruit fly was more of a companion than a bother.

Back then I was blind to the fact that where there is one fruit fly there's a pretty good chance that there will be more. And soon there were. Fruit flies have invaded my office. So I asked for help. A woman I work with made a couple of suggestions and I made a trip to the garden center. I bought stuff to put in the soil to help me get at the root of the problem and a trap to help me catch the flies that dive bomb my desk.

What would happen, I wonder, if I had chosen to remain blind to my winged companions? Would they have gone away by themselves? Probably not. Most likely they would have settled down and produced even more offspring. That's usually what happens when we refuse to see things as they really are. Maybe that's why the Church gives us Lent. Because, like my plant, sometimes our souls have 'bugs' (or 'sins, if you prefer). At first, it may be only one or two, and we might actually be quite comfortable with them. But there's a pretty good chance that there will be more. And before we know it, the sin to which we were blind in the beginning has invaded our lives. And we have to ask for help.

The blind man in John's gospel regained his sight because he asked Jesus for help. The Sacrament of Reconciliation offers us the same opportunity. Is there something buzzing around in our lives that shouldn't be there? Something that we've become so comfortable with that we no longer see it? Jesus can help, but first we must admit our blindness. Do we believe?

The Psalms and the Liturgy of the Hours

The Liturgy of the Hours, also known as the "divine office," offers every Catholic an opportunity to make each day holy by the praise of God. The psalms we inherited from ancient Israel serve as the foundation of this ancient form of Christian prayer. This two-part series introduces both the psalms and the Liturgy of the Hours to help everyone more deeply engage the Church's public prayer. The two sessions are on Saturday, March 8 and Saturday, March 15 at St. Joseph Parish, Koenig Center, 121 East Maple Avenue in Libertyville from 9:00 am to 12:00 pm each day. Dr. Pauline Viviano, Associate Professor of Theology at Loyola University will discuss:

Psalms in the Bible - March 8

Historical, theological, and literary background for praying the psalms.

Psalms as the prayer of the Church - March 15

History and description of the Liturgy of the Hours and its value for the Catholic spiritual life today.

These sessions are presented by the Chicago Catholic Scripture School. Registration deadline is February 29. For more information, call CCSS coordinator Carol Kloss at (312) 243-3700.
